Will British Fleet Consider Blockade

ARMIES AGAIN PRESS REBEL TOWARDS LEFTIST CAPITAL

The demand that military assistance should be furnished the Spanish Government if the Soviet's diplomats do not succeed in bringing about an effective neutrality agreement, was voiced at a mass meeting of workers here to-day.

The demand is significant, as it indicates the probable course of Soviet opinion if the Ambassador's representations to the London Non-Intervention Committee are not received sympathetically.— Reuter.

BRITAIN REFUSES TO BLOCKADE

London, Oct. 15. Lord Plymouth's refusal, as chairman of the London Non-Intervention Committee, to consider the Russian demand for a blockade of Portuguese ports in order to prevent aid reaching the Spanish rebels, threatened to start an open race to-day between - Fascist and Leftist powers in assisting their favourites in the Spanish civil conflict.

Reliable quarters here say that unless Lisbon speeds its answer to the Russian demands, the Soviet may act decisively, and without further consultation with other powers.—United Press.

Common Cause

Moscow, Oct. 16. "The toilers of the Soviet Union are only fulfilling their duty by rendering every assistance in their power to the revolutionary masses in Spain," says M. Iossi Stalin, Russia's chief executive, in a message to the Central Committee of the Spanish Communist Party.

He adds: "They realise that the liberation of Spain from the oppression of Fascist reactionaries is not a private affair of Spaniards, but the common cause of all advanced and progressive mankind."---Reuter.

BRUSSELS SILENT

Paris, Oct. 15.

It is understood that a French note to be presented to the Belgian Government will ask for the Brussels conception of neutrality and will put other pointed questions to King Leopold's Ministers regarding Belgium's obligations in other matters.

France is anxious to discover what repercussions the new Belgian policy of neutrality will have on the accord between the French and Belgian General Staffs, and the French Government will question Belgium on her attitude towards the League of Nations Covenant, Reuter.

STILL BOUND TO LEAGUE

Brussels, Oct. 15.

There is a total absence of official comment on the speech delivered yesterday by King Leopold, in which he declared that Belgium would in future maintain a strictly neutral policy in matters of defence.

Well-informed quarters point out there is no question of Belgium not recognising her international engagements. Consequently she does not envisage withdrawing from the

The problem facing the Government is to determine to what extent Belgium, by signing any new Western European security pact, will go beyond engagements already made with the League.

Diplomatic circles hold that Belgium does not enter a new western pact she will still be bound by obligations to the League and consequently is not thinking of repudiating the principle of collective. security.--Reuter.

SECURITY DESTROYED?

Paris, Oct. 15.

Authoritative circles in France believe that King Leopold's Belgion neutrality statement has thrown the whole of the post-war European system into the melting pot and broken the net-work of pacts the nations have concluded in search of security.

While official circles decline to comment, it is generally felt that the speech of the Belgian King yesterday amounted to a breaking of Belgium's alliance with France, denunciation of the Locarno Pact and withdrawal from the League of Nations without notice.—Reuter Bulletin Service.

Norwegian Rescues Entire Crew

The Japanese steamer Moko Maru, 7,144 tons, sank yesterday afternoon in heavy weather in the Gulf of Lingaven, in the Philippine Islands, but her entire crew, was saved by the Norwegian steamer Concordia.

The B. and S. steamer Anking, overdue at Manila yesterday, had been variously reported damaged and chased off her course by a typhoon. It now appears her delay was caused by an attempt to reach the Moko Maru. The Anking carried 425 passengers for Manila, mostly from Amoy.

At noon yesterday the Moko Maru, bound from Moji to Dungan, reported she was making water in her forward holds but that she was in no need of immediate assistance. A half an hour later, however, she sent an SOS crackling across the water, adding that she was taking great quantities of water and was unable to cope with the situation unaided. She was then in latitude 17.28 N., longitude 119.19 E., according to her reckon-

MARKET LOOKS FOR HIGH PRICES

DEMAND ARMAMENTS

London, Oct. 15. A further increase of five per cent in copper production has not surprised the metal markets, and experts hold that if the demand continues at | the present rate, and there is no reason why it should not, "the increased output should be easily lapped up."

The biggest buying orders in the market to-day were on account of consumers, who are faced with the largest demand for copper for armaments purposes. The market feeling inclines unanimously to the view that higher prices are inevitable in the near future and that the commodity is still very cheap at the present price.

Sentiment was further bolstered up by the knowledge that stocks contique to decline, despite the increases in production. A moderately large bull account exists, which may make for occasional fluctuations but this will likely be outweighed by the persistent excellence of the consumers' demand.—Reuter.

When preparing baby's bath every mother should train herself to put in a certain amount of cold water first. There are two reasons for this. First, if she is called away in the middle of her preparations, baby can come to no harm as far as the bath is concerned. Becondly, the metal bath will not get so abnormally warm that the child's small seat is burned when he is placed in the bath. I am confident that many children cry in their baths because they are sitting on the hot metal surface.

KING GEORGE V MEMORIAL FOR HONGKONG

OFFICIAL SCHEME.

His Excellency the Governor has been informed from many quarters of a general desire that Hong Kong should possess a worthy Memorial to His late Majesty. King George V...

In the United Kingdom the National Memorial, with royal approval, will take the form of Playing Fields throughout the country with suitable commemorative entrance gates. Members of the fighting Services in this Colony are subscribing to this Home memorial, and any civilians who desire to contribute are reminded that remittances should be addressed to !'The King George National Memorial Fund, The Mansion House, London, E.C.4."

At the present time of economic depression it is unlikely that sufficient money could be raised in this Colony for the purchase of large areas for playing fields. The Executive Council has therefore had under most careful consideration the preparation of a plan which, while identical in its main purpose and conception with the Home Scheme, will carry with it an assurance of immediate practical success and of popular acceptance. The scheme which has emerged is that Covernment should preserve for public parks with children's playgrounds two open spaces, one in Victoria and the other in Kowloon. Both the proposed areas adjoin congested districts, and any possible doubts as to their potential recreative and hygienic value will be speedily dispelled by an evening visit to the existing Southorn Playing Ground at Wantsai.

The area selected for Victoria is the beautiful garden of the present Government Civil Hospital, which will no longer be required when the Queen Mary Hespital opens next year. The Maternity Block and Medical Officer's quarters can be demolished and there will then be room for three playgrounds and (if funds permit). for a paddling pool, without encroachment on the fine lawn that already exists. The many lovely trees, which luckily escaped mutilation by the recent typhoon, would of course be preserved in any future layout.

In Kowloon there is a sufficiently large unalienated space at the Northern end of Canton Road just before it joins Jordan Road. It contains at present some rocky hummocks but, given funds, these can be easily levelled off or converted into terrace gardens. More would have to be done here than at the Civil Hospital, but there is no reason why an equally useful and pleasant result should not emerge. If, however, this area can be exchanged for one even more suitable the Government will consider such an exchange.

The Government's contribution to the scheme will be the preservation of these areas as open spaces, their preparation and equipment depending upon public subscription. The erection of commemorative arches or gates, as under the Home Scheme, would doubtless meet with general approval but (although teritative sketch-plans are being got out) the local Scheme is not yet tied to any set design. All subscriptions will be handed over to the Urban Council, and with them will lie the responsibility of getting the fullest value for money in the lay-out, equipment and beautification of both areas. It is considered that future maintenance would be a fair charge on urban revenues and voluntary subscriptions will therefore be utilised entirely on initial development.

The Governor earnestly invites subscriptions to this Scheme, which should be paid into the Hong Kong and Shangnal Bank, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce or the Tung Wah Hospital. His Excellency is most grateful to these institutions for this service of collection. Cheques should be made payable to "King George V" Memorial Fund" and crossed. In launching this appeal the Governor hopes that the Scheme will commend itself as strongly to the general public as it does to his colleagues on the Executive Council and Finance-Committee and to himself, and that it will meet with a truly generous response. The receipt of donations will be acknowledged in the newspapers, by kind permission of the Editors.

Dr. H. Kai Gee-wong, resident medical officer of the Tung Wah Hospital, said that he was on duty on the night of September 10 when the man was brought into hospital by two of his friends about 10.60. His complaint was a pain in the pit of the slomach. Witness examined him. and made a provisional diagnosis of gastritis, and prescribed a stock medicine for stomachache, to which the deceased responded, for when he saw him the following morning, the man made no complaint. Witness sald he went off duty at 11 a.m. on September 11, and dld not see deceased again. When he first saw the man, there was nothing about his appearance which might have suggested he would commit suicide, and there was no sign of mental depression in the man. Deceased was not helpless, but was capable of getting about,

Dr. Phoon Sik-wing, medical officer in charge of the Tung Wah Hospital, said that on being informed about 2.55 p.m. on September 11 that a man was found hanging in the lavatory, he went there and found the body had been taken down. He telephoned the Police, who arrived ten minutes later. He had not seen deceased before, as it was not his case. There was no sign of life in deceased when he examined him in the lavatory. He first saw the ligature hanging on the bar supporting the cistern in the lavatory,

Hanging by Belt

Testifying, Au Lai-sang, a dresser of the hospital said that he went inside the lavatory after hearing from an attendant that one of the patients had committed suicide there. He entered the water closet, and saw the deceased hanging from a belt around his neck. The belt was looped round a water pipe connected to the flush system. Two of the attendants present took down the body.

Eu Tal, an uncle of the man, said that he had always been on good terms with his nephew, and that the deceased suffered from pain over the heart. On September 10, he was sent for by his nephew, who complained of intense pain over the chest, and requested him to take him to a hospital. Deceased was put into a ricksha and taken to the Tung Wah Eastern Hospital. Eastern Hospital.

parallel to the line of play, with the result that exceptional resiliency and extra drive are obtained from the shaft. Under the normal construction the shaft is, of course, locked by the handle slips and the shock of impact is largely taken by the shoulders of the frames and. of course, the gut. In our "Pli-shaft" construction. however, the shock is absorbed by the whole of the shaft as well, with the result that not only are the shoulders (always the weakest part of the racket) relieved of some of the strain, but additional resiliency is obtained as well. Experience is rapidly leading us to conclude that the design of a racket along these lines represents one of the greatest advances which has ever taken place in the evolution of the tennis racket. SPORTS DEPT.

FRIDAY, OCT. 16, 1936.

TOO CUMBERSOME The impatience felt in some quarters over the slowness of the international committee method, as applied to the nonintervention agreement in the Spanish crisis, raises an issue of the utmost importance. It is a matter which has frequently come into prominence in the troublous times of the past few. years in many parts of the world. The failure of the League of Nations to prevent the virtual absorption of Manchuria by Japan is an outstanding example of the injury a country can suffer whilet an international body is discussing the pros and cons of a crisis. Long before the Lytton Commission was despatched, Japan's object had been achieved, and despite the fact that the Commissioners found that Japan's action was indefensible, the stark fact remains that China has been bereft of an immense area of territory which was indisputably hers. We saw a further instance of the of delay in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. Italy was leclared the aggressor, but whilst committee after committee was brought into being a Geneva for the purposes of investigation, and painfully laborimachinery was set in motion, nothing intervened to prevent the annexation of a Isovereign State enjoying membership of the League of Nations. We are now witnessing the same process in the case of the Spanish civil war. A most imposing list of nations has agreed not to intervene in the conflict, but specific charges have been made that the agreement is not being observed. Under the rules of procedure agreed upon, the Non-Intervention Committee will only listen to such charges as are submitted by a Government which is party to the lagreement. It is then the duty of the Committee to examine the complaints with a view to ascertaining the facts. In this instance. Russin, a signatory of the agreement, has levelled specific charges against Portugal and Germany, and these are now under process of investigation. The tragedy of the situation, so far as the Spanish Government is concerned, is that whilst the enquiries are being pursued, the insurgents, allegedly backed from the outside, are daily driving on towards the capital. Whether one's sympathics are with the loyalists or the rebels, the outstanding fact is that a constitutionally established Government is in process of being overthrown whilst an international body is engaged in seemingly endless talk to determine whether there has been any outside aid given to the rebels. On the general issue raised. there is accumulative evidence of the non-effectiveness of present methods for dealing with major crises, but the trouble is that no satisfactory alternative has yet

vices was probably just as essential to progress as the demand

Kruger Park Lion Chases Cars in Play

Johnnesburg, Oct. 1.

NE of the lions in the Kruger U National park is becoming well known to tourists in the Pretorius Kop district on account of a playful habit of running after cars like a dog after a boy gentlemen, must go. Local authorities are responsible for expending about an eighth-ofthe total national income each year, Last year £167 millions was paid in rates. The total expenditure on rate fund services, taking into account various grants from valional funds, was £368 millions.

Now this may seem a large sum of money. It certainly is large enough to merit the highest standards of administrative skill in those responsible for its expenditure and keen public interest in the direction in which the money is used. But it must be remembered that it is less than the amount the nation spends each year on alcoholic drinks and tobacco, and is almost insignificant compared with what we spend in paying for past and future wars. It represents just over two shillings a week per head of population. Not an excessive amount, surely, when we consider that it must cover a whole range of essential public services, including education, housing, poor relief, child welfare, sankation, etc.

Yet for my present purpose am not concerned to argue whether it is inadequate of excessive.

My concern is with the fostering of a new creative civic pride which will be profoundly dissatisfied with ugliness, inemciency and shortsighted niggardliness in our corporate life.

Once that is widespread, public opinion will. I am convinced, face the financial consequences of its new standards.

radical improvements is there, no one can deny, Look round any town-your own town-and you will discover need upon need which can only be met by resolute imaginative enterprise by the community.

Miles of dreary, depressing streets lying about in chaotic ugliness, without dignity or plan. These are but a few of the social evils which await attention.

That public opinion recognises they are evils is countly evident. And by the pressure of public opinion, we have already, through Parliament, provided powers which, if fully used by local authorities, could substantially remedy most of the above and other similar problems.

The trouble is that, having gone so far, public interest seems to stop short. Is it because such things as sanitation and street lighting are regarded as too trivial to merit continuous attention? I think that must be the explanation.

Not having the dramatic background of world events, we are apt to think that the prosaic incidents of running a town do not matter very much.

Well, they have got to be made to matter.

We have got to feel asindignant about the absence of proper facilities for the welfare of our children as we all, quite properly, feel about breaches of the Covenant of the League of Nations.

We have got to understand that progress cannot be sustained if we neglect the most ordinary, intimate and elementary needs of men and

Here and there one sees glimpses of the existence of imaginative civic pride. Look at the spacious and delightful centre of Cardiff. the impressive new Civic Halls at Southampton and Swansca, some of the housing estates in Lanark, the Headrow in Leeds, Manchester's new library, the health services in London and Durham, some of Lancashire's new schools.

Here are things which enhance civic dignity and add to the wellbeing of the community. They point the way to progress. They set a standard which should be reached in every department of municipal service.

Although the clash and conflict on the world stage demands more and more of our attention, surely we British citizens have energy and time enough for a new regenerating Civic Crusade to lift local government out of the rut. Let us give it new vitality and purpose and start the long-overdue job of building dignified beautiful towns inhabited by happy and healthy people.

Dr. Friedrich Bergius, Heidelberg chemist, explained to Harvard U.S. Air Link how food can be synthesized from wood

In fact, there is enough food in the waste scraps of a few forest acres to feed inexpensively the entire German army, he implied. Those who heard his address considered this to be a startling disclosure of the extent | Bowyer, of the Stinson Aircraft Comto which at least one nation has gone in the race toward national | six months' investigation trip to the self-sufficiency.

In direct contrast to the tone of Britain's meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, now in session, wherein the weakness and backwardness of the human spirit and not the wickedness of chemistry is blamed for the perversion of scientific discoveries into war instruments, Harvard's meetings heard Dr. Bergius' experiments admittedly tied to military usage. Throughout the speech rang Napoleon's classic statement "An army marches on its stomach," changed to read. "Future armies will march on DEMAND RISES sawdust."

WILL COST BUT LITTLE "Synthetic sawdust food will cost very little," said Dr. Bergius, "for the raw materials are now waste products. After the cost of the initial plant installation, the upkeep will be small. All the materials used in the process are fully recoverable and can be used over and over again. Even the fuel used for operating the plant is obtained from a waste by-product of the sawdust. The final result is a yield of 100 per cent." Dr. Bergius said that at the present time the products of his plant are being used mostly as fodder for cattle, but that at any time it can be converted into food fit for human consumption. Carbohydrates, fats and proteins, the three essentials of diet, can all be obtained from wood, he asserted.

A Start

As is usual with the Interport side away cricket is slow in getting under way and I do not suppose anything will start seriously until to-morrow week.

There has been some attempt made this year to improve the arrangements as regards fixture cards and I await the result with interest. It will be of great assistance to me

STANLEY BALDWIN: MAN OR MIRACLET By Bechofer Roberts

(Robert Hale, 12s. 6d.) HE Prime Minister, thinking out his future in the quiet seclusion of Blickling Hall, will find little consolation in the latest attempt to explain to a wondering public the secret of his rise to

This study by Mr. Bechofer Roberts ("Ephesian") is more an indictment than a blography.

With mercileas preciaton, "Ephesian" paints a picture of a man pushed into high position just because he was not brilliant or clover, committing blunder after blunder, eacrificing his own best friends to his incompetence, clinging to office long after his appointed time and allowing the ship of State to go plungtur along without any leadership or

The nuther admits the Premier is a That tradition began at school, A contemporary, a Harrow houremaster, said. " small boys and big boys thought the world of him because of his nice-

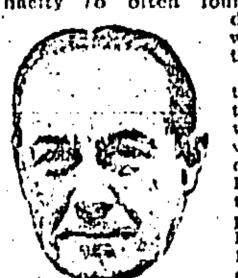

But more than charm of manner is retuilled of a great statesman, and "Ephesian," examining the big moments of Mr. Baldwin's career, can give nothing but a monotonous verdict of failure. His first important job was the American debt settlement involving this country in an annual payment of between £30,000,000 and £40,000,000 for more than half a century. It is now history that this settlement nearly caused a Cabinot crisis, that Bonnr Law was on the point of resignation and that the general view, mibacamently Justified by events, was that Mr. Baldwin find made a thoroughly bad bargain which it would be impossible to carry out.

Mr. Inldwin, "a pleasant fellow, but inexperienced and unknown," becomes

Premier and then follows the disastrous Tariff Reform election of 1923. · Once more he is given a chance when Labour falls on the Campbell case. His appecties on, "Give peace in out time, O Lord," makes him the most popular man in the country-and then he destroys it all by precipitating the Conernt Strike on a minor issue just when a settlement was in aight.

For what reason? "Ephesian" .says, "The most likely explanation of Baldwin's ill-omened decision is that it was a typical instance of the sudden nurnacity to often found in habitual drifters. The worm turned-nt the wrong time." Then follows the General Election of 1929, when Mr. Baldwin opened the campaign at Drury-lane with the depressing prediction that hin Party would lose at lenst 70 scals.

"The result of the election exceeded the most pessimistic estimate. Baidwin had surpassed himself." After the MacDonald opoch he becomes Premier again, "Baldwin' conducted the Coolition's business with such a grasp of Mr. MacDonald's methods that nobody could any which of the two loaders was the more bono-less or the more wonderful," Finally comes the Honre-Laval crisis. "He threw Bir Bamuel Hoore over as he had thrown over so many of his friends," Always he remains, "Waiting the psychological moment Beldwin stumbles forward to the penitent form, crying loudly I have sinned." " No matter who is sacrificed, Baldwin nlways has a sent at the table, an honoured prodigal," With biting scorn "Ephesian" writes his political epitanh; "He was so great a loss to the Worcestershire County E. E. H.

THE PROFITS OF WAR By Richard Lewinsohn

(Routledge, 10s, 6d.). WERYONE knows that an un-11 conscionable amount of money was spent on the last war, but no one hitherto has troubled to estimate how much was made out of Il. M. Lewinsonn gives the first hint of the colosed fortunes piled up by the war-time profiteers, and, in a rough calculation of the profits of beligerent and neutral countries alike, suggests as an "absolute minimum" the stuggering total of £10,000,000,000. But it is only singsering when torn from its context, for the book is filled with revelations of these who, throughout history, have cheerfully been turning public lesses into private gain. It is not the "absolute minimum" one has doubts about, but rather the size of the possible maximum.... This is at once the most comprehenaive and most damning indictment to date of the profit which war means to some M. Lawinsohn makes a systematic and thorough survey of the whole subject, overlooking nothing and no one in his search for facts.

As surely as paid armics supplanted found warriors and Vickers-Armstrong the craftsmen armourers, so list the financial and economic structure ..

of war completely changed. By 1914 the art of forcing tribute from a nation's needs had been perfected, and the speculators and middlemen, the contractors and manufacturers, the grafters and Covernment agents really commissions fut through a a nele order valued at 67,000,000 dollars. Bethlehem steel shares rocketed on the United States markets from 25 dollars to 700.

In England the shipping boom shot up profits from £20,000,000 in 1913 to 0250,000,000 to 1916. (" For £5,000,000 the Cunard Line acquired the Commonwealth and Dominlen line, whereas the capital value of the latter was no more than £2,000,000 at the outside,") the Afres rose by 350 per cent by 1017. Morgan (working on 1 per cent

The markets were gloomy only when someone suggested mediation, a new attempt to patch up peace. And next time? . "The centre of gravity of war profite," mays the author, "has been on the whole, if not altogether regularly, shifting away from the actual theatre of operations. The armament firms are now menneed, and it is doubtful whether they will ever see again the profits they have enjoyed in the mast. "Looking towards the future, it may initiv safely be predicted that the further one gets from wars, the more profitable they will be. It is not one's own wars that will bring in the profits. but the wars of others. Armaments will realise less war profits than the most innocent of products." Members of the Arms Commission might do worse than leave their unhurried deliberations for an hour or two to consider M. Lewinsohn's brilliant examination of this vital subject. Their attention is directed particularly to

"On December 19 Lloyd George made a fineech in reply, which seemed defi-nitely to actile the matter. There would be no peace negotiations. Prices rose on the Stock Exchange."

HIR D. P. O'CONNOR sends in a cutting of an anniversary that fell this week. It reminds us of the leadly skirmishes that led to the victorious 'establishment of Trade Unionism.

On August 19, 1811, John Stanley. Joseph Jeffery, Thomas Brian and Thomas Brunt, all Journeymen bootmakers employed by Mr. Hale of Ficetstreet, were charged at the Guildhall with "conspiring to raire the price of wages." There had been a meeting of the journeymen, and this prosecution was the result.

The four men were sentenced to two months imprisonment in Newgate. Two others escaped on a point of law.

THE DEBATE CONTINUES

I AM putting in a word here myself when I say that those were the days when the sentiment of "The rich man in his castle, the poor man at his gate" reflected Christianity for many people; it still does.

So I am glad that the Rev. H. P. Kingdon, addressing the Modern Churchmen's Conference at Oxford. has stigmatized some hymns as bad and maudlin. I am especially glad that he said, " It is sheer hypocrisy to preach the gospel that man cannot live by bread alone to those who have not even got brend."

To-morrow's Picture Features

Many interesting illustrations will appear in te-morrow's issue of the Telegraph

Pictorial Supplement. Weddings illustrated will be those of Mr. R. L. Pearce and Miss G. F. Meagher, Mr. J. Lawson and Miss Helen Lee. Mr. Lo Kwok-wai and Miss Lee Kwai-sheung; as well as the mass- marriage ceremony at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. last Saturday. There will be several pictures of the St. Teresa's Troop of Boy Scouts in camp at Anderson Valley, and a group of the Kowloon Garrison Pack of Wolf Cubs.

Other illustrations will include reproductions of some of Mr. Luis Chan's paintings to be exhibited at the Gloucester Hotel on October 27.

The Supplement will contain the popular feature and entertainment pages, results of last week's Children's Competition, and details of a new contest for the kiddies.

The Japanese steamer Moko Maru, 7,144 tons, sank yesterday afternoon in heavy weather in the Gulf of Lingaven, in the Philippine Islands, but her entire crew, was saved by the Norwegian steamer Concordia.

The B. and S. steamer Anking, overdue at Manila yesterday, had been variously reported damaged and chased off her course by a typhoon. It now appears her delay was caused by an attempt to reach the Moko Maru. The Anking carried 425 passengers for Manila, mostly from Amoy.

At noon yesterday the Moko Maru, bound from Moji to Dungan, reported she was making water in her forward holds but that she was in no need of immediate assistance. A half an hour later, however, she sent an SOS crackling across the water, adding that she was taking great quantities of water and was unable to cope with the situation unaided. toddlers in the family? To-day I am dealing with problems from readers on this subject, and I feel sure they will interest others.

Open Windows

My problem concerns open windows.
Our toddler is at an age when I dare not leave him alone in a room without closing the window. He climbs out of his cot at bedtime to play with the window catches.—" Fresh Air."

I SUGGEST that you provide baby with one of my safety-belts to keep him safe in bed. There are also good steel safety-bars which can be fixed to all windows, and which will solve this problem for you.

You can fix them yourself as they only need screwing into the woodwork on either side of the window. The price varies according to the length required. starting at 10s, a dozen for lengths of

Hot Water

My neighbour was called out of the room just after she had put in the hot water for baby's bath. He crawled over the bath, and, although there was not enough water to cause a serious burn, his hands were badly scalded. -- " Pen-

WHEN preparing baby's bath every mother should train herself to put in a certain amount of cold water first. There are two reasons for this.

First, if she is called away in the middle of her preparations, baby can come to no harm as far as the bath is concerned. Secondly, the metal bath will not get so abnormally warm that the child's small seat is burned when he is placed in the bath. I am confident that many children cry in their baths because they are sitting on the hot metal surface.

"The water's not a bit too hot, baby," mother assures the child. I agree, but the surface of the bath itself may be sufficiently hot to cause painful local

MARKET UPWARD YESTERDAY

New York, Oct. 15. S. C. & F. Wall Street Journal morning comment: -The farm mortgage and crep outlook is the best for many years. General Foods are likely to consider a further dividend this year. It is believed that selective industrials will be more bought in the near future than railroad shares. The Street still views the market constructively. Traders predict that Montgomery, Ward & Company will carn over $4 per share this year. October automobile production is likely to be substantially below that of October last year. The odds on the re-election of President Roosevelt are now over 3 to 1.

S. C. & F. New York office cables: Stocks: The market is absorbing selling impressively and we look for higher prices later. The asset value of Adams Express Company shares as of October 14th, was $20.84 per Cotton: There has been some beavy hedge and October liquidation. Aggressive buying is awalling the decline of the movement, but sentiment is still bullish.

Wheat: A forecast of rains in Australia, slack Canadian export demand and the absence of mill buying are temporarily depressing sentiment, but the outlook for the future is still good and these factors are merely temporary.

Corn: Larger receipts, improved pasturage and imports of corn from the Argentine are all construct as bearish factors. The latest estimate of the total crop in the Argentine is given as 392,000,000 bales.

Rubber: Factory interest is apparently awaiting market reactions. There are some apprehensions of an increased quota in 1937. Special: The American Telephone & Telegraph Company shows carnings for the quarter ending September 30th. of $2.31 per share, compared with $1.70 per share for the same quarter of last year. Messrs. ### EUROPEAN GIRL'S ESCAPE

LORRY COLLIDES WITH RICKSHA

An incident opposite the Star Ferry wharf, Hongkong, on the morning of October 7, when a larry collided with a ricksha and narrowly missed knocking down a European mirl, had a sequel before Mr. W. Schoffeld, at the Central Magistracy this morning, when Tang Kwongshul, driver, of lorry No. 3517, appeared on a summons for driving without due care and caution.

Traffic Sergeant Kelly said that about a a.m. on October / detendant was driving his lorry along Connaught Road Central from west to east. On approaching the Star Ferry there was a bus, walting to pick up passengers, and defendant's lorry shot out and attempted to pass between the traffic post, and the entrance to the ferry. In so. doing, the lorry collided with a public ricksha, knocking the coolie over and injuring his feet, and also narrowly missed hitting Miss Mary Joy Parsons, who was on her way to school, Mr. W. H. B. Muskett was a witness of the incident. Detendant stopped his lorry further on, and took the injured coolle to hospital, after which he reported the accident.

have been between twenty and twenty-five miles an hour. Sergeant Kelly added that defendant was fined $10 last week for ! obstruction in Stubbs Road, and the fine had not been paid. Mr. Schoffeld imposed a fine of $25, in default, three weeks' hard labour, on detendant, and a further ten days in default of his fine the previous week. Mr. Schoffeld also directed that the owner of the lorry should pay the ricksha coolle $

M. A. Calras, driver of private car No. 1806, was fined $5 on a summons for leaving his car in Ice House Street from 2.30 p.m. to 2.45 p.m. on October 5.

SERIOUS CHARGE

WOMEN APPEAR IN COURT

Li Chung, 34, mistress of a prostitutes' boarding house at No. 217 Queen's Road West, third floor, and Chan Chan, alias Lin Hing, 27, married woman, appeared before Mr. W Schoffeld, at the Central Magistracy this morning, and pleaded not guilty to a charge of exercising control over a prostitute, Tam Ting, for the purpose of gain on October 9 and on other dates.

Inspector Ellis, of the S.C.A., said the girl, who was 18 years of age, had been living with her mother at Canton up to September 8, when she was missing. Her mother eventually found out that a woman, Ang Ngol, a friend of her daughter's, had taken the girl to Hongkong. The mother came to Hongkong and found her daughter on September 14, and took; her to the police.

The girl alleged that Ang Ngol brought her to Hongkong on September 9 on the pretence that she was to learn to iron and wash clothes. Ang Ngoi took her to first defendant's address, which was a pro-stitutes' lodging house. About 8 b.m. that day, second defendant cull-ed at the house, and after conversation with first defendant, took her to 182 Queen's Road West, second floor, where the girl alleged the women left her with a man. She was, paid $2.20, of which she gave second defendant $1.20 and first defendant fifty cents. The girl alleged this happened on the three following nights. The girl also said that she was quite at liberty to leave the house if she wanted to. The woman, Ang Ngoi, sald Inspector Ellis, had left for Canton

Hongkong Singers' Fine Work

Those who were fortunate enough to be present at last night's performance of "King Olaf" and accompanying works by Elgar, and presented by the Hongkong Singers, were unreserved in their praise of every aspect of the programme.

"Feasting I Watch," expressed in a niusical way the grandeur and verse, and employed the use of one central theme sung in turn by the the wavering melody over the sonorous bass accompaniment. "Weary Press. Wind of the West," expressing in a musical sense the coming and passing of a storm, and the oppressive silence following, and "Death on the Hills," a plaintive chorat suggesting the women and children of a small mountain village pleading with the spirit of Death to spare their lives. ended the introductory section.

MAIN WORK

The Scandinavian Saga, "King Olaf," opened with a melodic orchestral introduction, played primarily as accompaniment to a sinister oboe solo, rushing on to pass the melody to the cello, and finally to the brass which opened the Singer's explanatory prologue in an impressive

In writing this Saga, Elgar expressed the wish that the chorus should approximate as nearly as possible an ancient group of bards that toured with their leaders and accompanied their stories. supplying the background upon which the principal singers' stories were built. The three soloists were to assume different roles at different stages of the saga, so that Irene Anderson Miller sang the parts of Gudrun, Sigrid and Thyri, Edgar Warner sang the parts of Olaf only, and Victor Sanders the parts of Thor and Ironbeard.

Edgar Warner more than did himself justice last night, attacking the high notes with a gusto which many people thought he lacked in his last concert at the Helena May. The extreme intricacies of time, so prevalent in this composition, did not bother him, and his ability to strike out a high note with absolutely no accompaniment, stood as an achievement by itself. Irene Anderson Miller and Victor Sanders gave outstanding performances, and with the assistance of the large and thoroughly trained chorus, ably led by Mr. finest orchestra, led by Miss Prue Lewis, the night's entertainment was made one of the highest quality.

The final concert will be given tomorrow evening at 9:15 at the China Fleet Club, the proceeds going to St. John Ambulance Association to be used to help tubercular patients in the Cheung Chau Hospital.

FRIDAY, OCT. 16, 1936.

TOO CUMBERSOME The impatience felt in some quarters over the slowness of the international committee method, as applied to the nonintervention agreement in the Spanish crisis, raises an issue of the utmost importance. It is a matter which has frequently come into prominence, in the troublous times of the past few years in many parts of the world. The failure of the League of Nations to prevent the virtual absorption of Manchuria by Japan is an outstanding example of the injury a country can suffer whilst an international body is discussing the pros and cons of a crisis. Long before the Lytton Commission was despatched, Japan's object

had been achieved, and despite the fact that the Commissioners found that Japan's action was indefensible, the stark fact remains that China has been bereft of an immense area of territory which was indisputably hers. We saw a further instance of the perils of delay in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute. Italy was leclared the aggressor, but whilst committee after committee was brought into being at Geneva for the purposes of investigation, and painfully laborious machinery was set in motion, nothing intervened to prevent the annexation of a sovereign State enjoying membership of the League of Nations. We are now witnessing the same process in the case of the Spanish civil war. A most imposing list of nations has agreed not to intervene in the conflict, but specific charges have been made that the agreement is not being observed. Under the rules of procedure agreed upon, the Non-Intervention Committee will only listen to such charges as are submitted by a Government which is party to the agreement. It is then the duty of the Committee to examine the complaints with a view to ascertaining the facts. In this instance. Russia, a signatory of the agreement, has levelled specific charges against Portugal and Germany, and these are now under process of investigation. The tragedy of the situation, so Ifar as the Spanish Government is concerned, is that whilst the enquiries are being pursued, the insurgents, allegedly backed from the outside, are daily driving on towards the capital. Whether one's sympathies are with the loyalists or the rebels, the outstanding fact is that a |constitutionally established Government is in process of being loverthrown whilst an international body is engaged in seemingly endless talk to determine whether there has been any outside aid given to the rebels.

On the general issue raised, portance, and can be entrus'." any odd collection of retired oid gentlemen, must go.

Local authorities are responsible for expending about an eighth of the total national income each year. Last year £107 millions was paid in rates. The total expenditure on rate fund services, taking into account various grants from national funds, was £368 millions.

Now this may-seem a large sum of money. It certainly is large enough to merit the highest standards of administrative skill in those responsible for its expenditure and keen public interest in the direction in which the money is used...

But it must be remembered that it is less than the amount the nation spends each year on alconolic drinks and tobacco, and is almost insignificant compared with what we spend in paying for past and future wars.

It represents just over two shillings a week per head of population. Not an excessive amount. surely, when we consider that it must cover a whole range of essential public services, including eduention, housing, poor relief, child welfare, sanitation, etc.

Yet for my present purpose im not concerned to argue whether it is inadequate or excessive. My concern is with the fostering of a new creative civic pride which will be profoundly dissatisfied with ugliness, inefficiency and shortsighted niggardliness in our corporate life.

Once that is widespread, public opinion will, I am convinced, face the financial consequences of its new standards.

That the need for radical improvements is there, no one can deny, Look round any town-your own cown-and you will discover need upon need which can only be met by resolute imaginative enterprise by the community. Hospitals overcrowded and inadequately staffed. Health services, although skilfully administered by heroic public servants. touching only the fringe of the problem of physical deterioration. Slums and near-slums by the thousand standing as hideous monuments to the idea that property matters more than human

Crowded classrooms in out-ofdate schools, staffed by hardstell and overburdened teachers. Children playing in dangerous dirty streets because there are no healthy open spaces to which they can go.

Miles of dreary, depressing streets lying about in chaotic ugliness, without dignity or plan. These are but a few of the social evils which await attention. That public opinion recognises they are evils is equally evident. And by the pressure of public opinion, we have already, through Parliament, provided powers which, if fully used by local authorities, could substantially remedy. most of the above and other similar problems. The trouble is that, having gone so far, public interest seems to stop short. Is it because such things as sanitation and street lighting are regarded as too trivial to merit continuous attention? I think that must be the explanation. Not having the dramatic background of world events, we are apt to think that the prossic incidents of running a town do not matter very mucn.

Well, they have got to be made to matter.

We have got to feel as indignant about the absence of proper facilities for the welfare of our children as we all, quite properly, feel about breaches of the Covenant of the League of Nations.

We have got to understand that progress cannot be sustained if we neglect the most ordinary, intimate and elementary needs of men and women. Here and there one sees gimpses of the existence of imaginative civic pride. Look at the spacious and delightful centre of Cardiff. the impressive new Civic Halls at Southampton and Swansea, some of the housing estates in Lanark, the Headrow in Leeds, Manchester's new library, the health services in London and Durham, some of Lancashire's new schools.

Here are things which enhance civic dignity and add to the wellbeing of the community. They point the way to progress. They set a standard which should be reached in every department of municipal service.

Although the clash and conflict on the world stage demands more and more of our attention. surely we British citizens have energy and time enough for a newregenerating Civic Crusade to lift local government out of the rut. Let us give it new vitality and purpose and start the long-overdue job of building dignified beautiful towns inhabited by happy and healthy people.

WINNING OF TOSS FACTOR

Mr. H. R. B. Hancock, President of the Hongkong Cricket Club, who went with the team to Shanghai, commenting on the defeat, said it was all in the game. The winning of the toss was, however, in Shanghai's favour, as the wicket was plumb and played very well for three days, but cracked up badly on the fourth day of the

The Hongkong fielding he said was very good throughout, except that Hongkong had no luck in the matter of catches, which did not go to hand. The large ground made a considerable difference to the new players in the team, who had been accustomed to the smaller grounds in Hongkong, and this counted a great deal in the judging of catches. Pearce, Minu and R. Lee, he said bowled magnificently, especially the inst named, who had no luck at all, the ball beating the batsmen on several occasions, and missing the stumps by jnches. Lee was steadlest of the bowlers. Commenting on the batting, Mr. Hancock sald E. F. Fincher played a brilliant Innings at a critical stage of the game, and batted without the semblance of a chance. Pearce too batted well in the second innings, but A. H. Madar was a big disappointment to him. In the second innings, Madar was bowled by a ball round his legs, which he made no attempt to play and his leg-before-wicket decision in the first innings must have been correct.

LECKIE WAS STYLISH

There was a talk that Mr. Botelho-came out of the ruck too late but I don't think that it really made any difference owing to the fact that Gold Coin, a second section rater, was up against a first division pony. However it took Mr. Choy about four years to emerge from the apprentice class and it is to be hoped that he will very soon register his first win among the "black letters" jockeys. The race attracted no less than 10 starters and I was glad no one was China "A," the Chinese making left at the post-as so very often their season's debut. The match is happens. For instance, in 1033 besides Larwood and perhaps G. O. Allen and Voce, the function of all other bowlers was to keep an end going. So it was with Grimmitt and O'Reilly in 1934 in England, the old days, though they had their cracks, the other bowlers came much more into the picture, and I think, wickets were more evenly shared.

It is still more surprising to read that the Yorkshire County Committee persuaded Hirst and Rhodes not to accept the invitation. It spoiled England's bowling, which practically consisted of Colin Blythe. John Gunn, Len. Braund and S. F. Barnes, who was taken straight out of Lancochire league cricket. It was not enough, especially as Barnes broke down during the third Test Match and could not bowl adequately during the rest of the tour. Hnyvery fairly with the bat.

Until comparatively recent times when it has become the fashion for some one or other to write- a voluminous account of the M.C.C. team's visit to Austrolia, it is always ensier to trace up the doings of Australian cricketers when they are playing in England. In 1902 Joe Darling brought over another great side to England. As it has been held among other teams to have been the best ever produced by Australia, I give the list in full: -C. Hill, H. Trumble, W. P. Howell, E. Jones, W. W. Armstrong, J. J. Kelly, R. A. Duff, M. A. Noble, J. Darling, A. J. Hopkins, V. T. Trumper, H. Carter and S. E. Gregory. ### debunk a Prodigal Premier

STANLEY BALDWIN: MAN OR MIRACLE?

By Bechofer Roberts (Robert Hale, 12s. 6d.)

FILE Prime Minister, thinking out his future in the quiet seclusion of Blickling Hall, will find little consolation in the latest attempt to explain to a wondering public the secret of his rise to power.

This study by Mr. Bechofer Roberts ("Ephesian") is more an indictment than a blography. With merciless precision, " Ephesian " pulnts a picture of a man pushed into high position test because he was not brilliant or clever, committing blunder after blunder, racrificing his own best friends to his incompetence, clinging to office long after his appointed time and spinit og ot. state to gitta ndt natwolla ing along without any leadership or

The author admits the Premier is a charming man. That tradition began at school, A contemporary, a Harrow houremaster, said, "drugh from and big boys thought the world of him because of his pice-

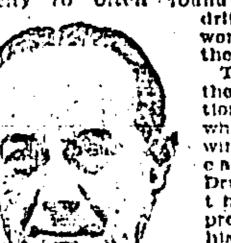

But more than charm of manner is requited of a great ataleaman, and " Ephesian," examining the big momentaof Mr. Baldwin's career, can give nothing but a monotonous verdict of failure. His first important job was the American debt settlement involving this country in an annual payment of between £30,000,000 and £40,000,000 for more than half a century. It is now history that this settlement mently caused a Cabinet crisis, that Bonnr Law was on the point of resignation and that the general view, ambanquently justified by events, was that Mr. Haldwin had made a thoroughly bad bargain which it would be impossible to corry out.

Mr Baldwin, "a pleasant fellow, but Inexperienced and unknown," becomes Premier and then follows the disastrous Tariff Reform election of 1923. Once more he is given a chance when Labour falls on the Campbell case. His specches on, "Olve peace in our time. O Lord," makes him the most popular man in the country-and then he destroys it all by precipitating the Concret Strike on a minor issue fust when a settlement was in sight.

For what reason? "Ephesian" ays. "The most likely explanation of Baldwin's ill-omened decision is that it was a typical instance of the sudden pugnacity to often found in habitual drifters. The worm turned-nt the wrong time." Thon follows the General Elcowhen Mr., Baldwin opened the enmpaign at Drury-lane with the depressing prediction that his Party would lore at least 70 of the two leaders was the more boneless or the more wonderful." Finally comes the Houre-Laval crisis, "He threw Bir Bamuel Hoars over as he and thrown over so many of his friends." Always he remains. "Walting the psychological moment Bridwin stumbles forward to the pentient form, crying loudly 'I have almued." " No matter who is sacrificed, Baldwin always has a sent at the table, an honoured protterl. With biting scorn "Ephesian" writes his political epitach; "He was so great a loss to the Worcestershire County E. E. H.

Arms Racketeers

THE PROFITS OF WAR By Richard Lewissohn (Routledge, 10s, 6d.).

WIT VERYONE knows that an undeconscionable, amount of money was spent on the last war, but no one hitherto has troubled to estimate how much was made out

M. Lewinsohn gives the first hint of the colossal fortunes piled up by the war-time profiteers, and, in a rough calculation of the profits of bel'igerent and neutral countries alike, suggests as an "absolute minimum" the staggering total of £10,000,000,000.

But it is only singgering when torn from its context, for the book is filled with revelations of those who, throughout history, have cheerfully been turning public losses into private gain. It is not the "absolute minimum" one has doubts about, but rather the size of the possible maximum. . . . This is at once the most comprehengive and most damning indictment to date of the profit which war means to some M. Lewinsohn maken a systematic and thorough survey of the whole subject, overlooking nothing and no one in his search for facts.

planted foudal warriom and Vickers-Armstrong the craftsmen armourers, so has the financial and economic structure of war completely changed. By 1914 the art of fereing tribute from a nation's needs had been perfected, and the speculators and middlemen, the contractors and manufacturers, the grafters and Government agents really got to work. In America the price of ecreals bought by the Affick rose by 350 per cent, by 1017. Morgan twerking on I per cent, commission; but through a single order valued at 67,000,000 dollars. Bathlehem steel shares racketed on the United States markets from 25 dellars

In Ingland the shipping been shot 112 Driftts from £20,000,000 in 1913 to e250,000,000 in 1016. ("Fer £5,000,000 the Cunard Line acquired the Commonwealth and Dominion line, whereas the capital value of the latter was no more. than £2,000,000 at the outside.")

The markets were gloomy only when rompone suggested mediation, a new attempt to patch up peace. And next time? "The centre of gravity of war profits," says the author. "has been on the whole, if not altogether regularly, shifting away from the actual theatre of operations. The armament firms are now menaced, and it is doubtful whether they will ever see again the profits they have enjoyed in the past. "Looking towards the future, it may fairly safely be predicted that the further one gets from wars, the more profitable they will be. It is not one's own wars that will bring in the profits, but the wars of others. Armaments will realise less war profits than the most innocent of products." Members of the Arms Commission might do worse than leave their unhurried deliberations for an hour or two to consider M. Lewinsohn's brilliant examination of this vital subject. Their attention is directed particularly to

"On December 19 Lloyd George made n ancech in reply, which seemed defi-nitely to settle the matter. There would be no peace negotiations. Prices rose on the Stock Exchange."

AM putting in a word here myself I when I say that those were the days when the sentiment of "The rich man in his castle, the poor man at his gate" reflected Christianity for many people: it still does.

-80-I-nm-glad-that-the-Rev. H. P. Kingdon, addressing the Modern Churchmen's Conference at Oxford. has stigmatised some hymns as bad and maudlin. I am especially glad that he said, "It is sheer hypocrisy to preach the gospel that man cannot live by bread alone to those who have not even got bread."

WHAT HAS CONE BEFORE: Philipps Martin, a young Parisian actor, has been carrying on a mild flir-tation with Yvonno, who is married. Their rendezvous is a motion picture theatre. Philippe, in the darkened house, takes a seat opposite Monique Polorin, mis-taking her for Yvonne. He kieses her, and she slaps him, creating a scone. The gendarmes are summoned.

DINNER DANCE ATTRACTION

AT THE GLOUCESTER TO-MORROW

In response to many requests received by the management of the Gloucester Hotel, Nina and Jose will repeat their Apache Dance tomorrow night, as given on Saturday last. In addition they will perform a new and gensational dance known as "La Cucaracha", a special Mexican number.

From the bookings, it is evident that the Gloucester has become a most popular rendezvous on Saturdays and Wednesdays.

MOBS DISPEL GAS USED

Gas fumes are no respecto of persons. Here is part of the confusion at Salinas, Calif., when California State Highway Patrolmen, working to break up an attack of lettuce trucks, released gas shells. The fumes caused a scurrying of pickets, onlookers, and women passers-by.

With the world's largest lettuce crop unharvested as a result of labour trouble, violence has broken out in the lettuce fields around Salinas and Watsonville, Calif., and pickets, unionists and sympathizers are opposed by growers, shippers, special deputy sheriffs, city police and California State Highway Patrol officers. Photo shows highway patrolmen advancing against an active group of pickets under a tear gas barrage.
